Hunting is a strenuous, physical exercise requiring stamina and good conditioning. Altitudes in Idaho are frequently in excess of one mile, and the air is much thinner than at lower elevations. The weather in Idaho can vary greatly over a short period of time, and extreme conditions of adverse weather may be encountered. The hunter recognizes these facts and represents that he is in good health and good physical condition so that he can participate in hunts in Idaho unless he is handicapped and participating in the special handicap hunts which needs a separate contract signed by both parties.

Initials _____, _____

Hunting is an activity requiring the use of weapons such as firearms and bows, which can produce injury. It requires hazardous activities in the wilderness. The hunter recognizes and accepts all risks which can arise during hunting. The hunter holds harmless, forgives, releases, and waives any claims which he may ever have against Hamilton Outfitters.

Hamilton Outfitters will use its best efforts to provide quality guiding and outfitting services to the best of its abilities. Hamilton Outfitters cannot and does not guarantee good weather or a successful kill of game, or that the hunter will kill a trophy animal and the hunter accepts these terms. Neither the weather nor the results of the hunt are guaranteed.

From time to time in our modern society, disputes arise and the hunter agrees that Idaho law shall govern this contract and the legal obligations of Hamilton Outfitters. Any disputes concerning this contract and the services provided by Hamilton Outfitters will be handled in Arbitration through the National Arbitration Forum in the State of Idaho.

The hunter agrees that he will abide by all state and federal laws at all times and will not engage in any conduct which may subject Hamilton Outfitters, its employees, guides, or customers to investigation or prosecution.

Both parties agree that this is a legal and binding contract.
